

Geoarcheology Workshop with Dr. Gregory Vogel April 26-27 & August 16-17, 2008

The CAA is pleased to offer two weekend hands-on geoarcheology workshops as a part of our summer calendar in 2008. Dr. Gregory Vogel, a Postdoctoral Research Associate at Arizona State University and Research Director at the Center, will lead these courses. Each workshop is an intensive, 2-day program appropriate for undergraduates, graduate students, and professional archeologists seeking to further their understanding of geoarcheology. Instruction will include informal lectures and hands-on experience describing, sampling, and interpreting soils and sediments in the field and in the laboratory. Special attention will be given to using soil and sediment data to better interpret the archeological record.

Dr. Vogel, who obtained his Ph.D. from the University of Arkansas, is the author of "A Handbook of Soil Description for Archeologists." For more information about Dr. Vogel, please visit:
